uary 16th

The Olympia Opera Company, America's favorite musical organization, will appear at the opera house presented Hahl's two act comic opera, "Said Pasha." The company numbers forty people, including orchestra, and comes highly endorsed both by press and public. The principals are Miss Lottie Kendall, prima donna for many seasons with Castle Square Opera Company, Miss Helen Warren, contralto, Miss Theresa Baxter, mezzo soprano, both ladies for a number of seasons being members of the Bostonians; Mr. Ed L. Weston, tenor, late of Alice Neilsen's opera company, Mr.
Sylvain Langlois, baritone, Mr. Ben Lodge, eccentric comedian, late of Castle Square Opera Company, Philadelphia, and Mr. Samuel Rhys, America's greatest violin virtuoso, who will appear between acts and render several solos. The chorus numbers twenty-eight voices and is handsomely costumed.

Seats on sale at the Surprise Store.

IN OLDEN TIMES

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action; but now that it is known that Syrup of Figs will permanently overcome habitual constipation, well-informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system. Buy the genuine.
Manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

FOR RENT

A FATAL WRECK

AT GULF JUNCTION A MILE
SOUTH OF DUNNELLON

ANOTHER RAILROAD HERO

James Roach, to Save the Passengers, Died With His Hand on the Throttle

EVIDENTLY AN ATTEMPT TO MURDER

And It Succeeded Only Too Well.
Citizens of Citrus Making Every Effort to Capture the Criminals

Passenger train No. 39, southbound, Waycross to Lakeland, while running fifty miles an hour, was wrecked at 6:30 o'clock last evening about a mile south of Gulf Junction, just across the river from Dunnellon, in Citrus county. Engineer James Roach was keeping a sharp lookout from his cab, when he saw a gap in the rail on his side of the track. His hand was on the lever, which he jerked back, reversing the engine, and yelled to his fireman at the same time. This was all the poor fellow had time to do, though his fireman says in the brief time in which he had so many things to do he tried desperately to put on the air brakes.
The time that lapsed between his seeing the break in the track and the wrecking of the engine must have been less than a second. The engine was a total wreck. An entire rail had been removed on the engineer's side, which was the low or inside of a curve on an embankment. The engine pitched forward and rolled completely over, down the embankment, with the tender and coal, baggage and express cars on top of it. Mr. Roach was completely buried under the wreck, and must have met instant death. His neck and limbs were broken and his entire body mashed into a pulp. It required three hours to dig his body out.

The fireman, when Mr. Roach yelled at him, jumped through the window on to the running board that runs along the side of the boiler of the engine and saved himself without any injury to speak of. Had the brave engineer left his post and jumped as soon as he saw the danger, he, too, might have been saved, but he was made of different stuff, and having done all he could to save the passengers and train, it was too late to save or even attempt to save his own life.
But for his prompt action the wreck must have been far more fatal.

About five of the passengers and crew, including the express messenger, were more or less injured and were sent to the High Springs hospital.

The passenger coaches were not very badly damaged. It is a miracle that the loss of life was so small.

An examination of the wreck showed that an entire rail had been unspiked and laid several feet from the track. The supposition is that parties who had had cattle killed and did not receive payment, or such pay as they thought they were entitled to, did the dastardly deed, for which hanging is entirely too good. Prompt and thorough action is being taken in the matter and passengers from Dunnellon this morning say that up to the time the train left there, 150 people had been arrested by Sheriff Priest, of Citrus county, and bloodhounds were running others. The county authorities and the railroad company will use every means to trace the murderous perpetrators down and give them the full benefit of the law.

Engineer James Roach was about thirty-two years of age, married and has one little child. His family resides in High Springs. He was one of the most popular, skillful and best paid engineers in the employ of the Plant System, and has been with them for twelve or fifteen years, having worked up from the section gang to the position of engineer on a through run. He was well known in Ocala and has many friends here. For several years he ran one of the trains through Ocala. His untimely death will be deeply regretted all along the line of the company's roads in Florida. He has made money and invested it, and only a short time ago bought and gave his father a complete sawmill in Levy county, that he might make a living for himself, without hard work. In his old age, Jim told him then that he would run this year, 1901, and would then quit the railroad business.

very trying on consumers, the merchants in particular, as it struck them just at their busy time.

H. B. Masters' big department store, which had just recently put in a splendid system of reflected lights governed by switches from different parts of the building, were heavy sufferers, and had to get hurriedly together a few kerosene lamps.

The business men are kicking, and kicking hard, too. If the machinery is old and inadequate to the needs of the city, then it is certainly economy for the council to arrange for and put in the proper machinery. At any rate the superintendent, Mr. Englesby, says he is carrying all the incandescent lights the dynamo will supply current for and has calls almost every day for new lighting, which he is unable to supply.

Is the time not opportune for a new and larger dynamo?
